By Telegraph.

The news this morning is more cheering and more nearly indicates the "good time coming." We seem to have some reason to hope that the "sixty days" spoken of by Seward, the prophet, and of which we have often read and heard are nearly up, and that the dark gloom and anxiety which have shrouded us so long, are breaking away. Doubtless, there is fearful work—work that will cost thousands of lives and millions of treasure—yet to be done, but the realizing sense that it is the closing—the winding up of this bitter and terrible conflict, now so long protracted, will give new force and energy to the finishing stroke.

The brilliant cavalry action, resulting in a victory so well deserved by the gallant Pleasanton and his patriot comrades, is we honestly believe the precursor of other splendid conquests soon and rapidly to be achieved in Virginia. Everything is encouraging in that part of the great battle field. From Vicksburg we have no sure tidings. The rebel rumor of its fall will possibly be confirmed to-day, but even if a little longer delayed, our faith in that result is unwaning, as it is also in regard to the victory which Banks is sure to win at Port Hudson. His report this morning shows the intensity of the struggle, the courage of the "colored element" and the sad loss of many able officers, whose names are not yet given.

The news from Europe may scare some who do not remember that the English agent of the Associated Press is in the interest of the stock brokers, and that his warlike dispatches have never been confirmed. We have no idea that France or England will in the slightest degree interfere in American matter, while we are sharply following up the contest against the rebels. They have no excuse or justification then for so doing, but when we are resting and preparing so much, and our people in all departments are getting rich, while their operatives are restless and starving, they begin to be impatient of our inaction and to threaten. But we do not believe we shall hear any more of this after the Fourth of July.

Dr. Newell's Reserve.

The remarks of our correspondent published yesterday, in relation to the wish of the Nez Perces, that a tract of land in Lewiston should be secured to Dr. Newell in the Treaty, make it proper and just that we should also state that the Commissioners regarded the request favorably, because they were convinced that the influence of Dr. Newell over the Indians had accomplished more than any other motive in bringing the Indians to the general terms of the Treaty. He had labored long and earnestly with the leaders to persuade them that the propositions of the Government were wise and generous; and their confidence in him, after many years experience of his friendship and his fairness, was so strong that they were induced to yield to his suggestions, and to surrender claims which at first it was supposed would never be given up. It is also well known that for two years past, the exertions of Dr. Newell for the preservation of peace between the Nez Perces and the whites have been indefatigable, and have tended to prevent bloodshed, probably more than any or all other causes. Besides this, we are informed that the Chiefs some years ago, agreed to give the land now reserved to the Doctor, in consideration of past friendship and good will, and as a donation for the benefit of his children by his first wife, whom they regarded as part of their people, and in whose welfare they felt a deep interest; the desire to secure it in the treaty was therefore only an equitable fulfillment of a previous contract.

For all these reasons, we think the action of the Indians and of the Commissioners was eminently commendable and just, and we certainly hope that none of the present occupants of the land will be disposed to deprive Dr. Newell of the small earnings of his faithful service to both parties, or of the proof of the gratitude and friendship of those who have thus shown that if they never forget an injury, they are also not unmindful of the reward due to kindness and sympathy.

DELEGATE FROM IDAHO.—Major John Owen, of Bitter Root valley, and one of the oldest white residents of the western slope of the Rocky mountains, is a candidate for Congress from Idaho. He runs without convention, platform, pledges, speeches, or any auxiliary save his good looks, honesty, knowledge of the Territory and its wants, and a large share of strong, common sense. All these ought to count some, but we imagine that the Major will find that, good as they seem, they will have hard work to win against the devices of the sly managers who long ago set a trap to catch his desired constituency with Federal bait. There are several candidates, whose merits are by no means superior to his, who will adroitly have conventions and platforms and make specious speeches, and leave him—nowhere. Major, you can catch bar, but you will have to be wider awake than for such varmint before you succeed in getting ahead of the old boss manager of political deviltry, whose long, slippery fingers reach from the Surveyor General's office at Olympia to Fort Benton. Look out for him.

Letter from Walla Walla.

WALLA WALLA, June 10th, 1863.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

From this point I promised to send you a few jottings of "matters and things in general." The trip from Portland here is now on the whole a pleasant one. If the twenty-four hours spent in coming from Celilo to Wallula is somewhat monotonous, from the almost unbroken sameness of the river scenery, yet the elegance and comfort of the steamers amply compensate, while at the same time the ease and dispatch with which the portages are now made by the railroads make an agreeable diversity in the modes of travel. The travel and current of trade, however, does not now concentrate here so much as formerly. Umatilla, Lewiston, and Le Grande, even, are all contending with Walla Walla for a share of the mining trade—some of them quite successfully. For example: on yesterday a mule train left here empty to go to Lewiston to load for the Boise mines; another party left at the same time, I understand, to make up a load of freight at Umatilla for the same destination, while this morning the whole stock belonging to one of the largest livery stables left here to locate at Le Grande. Of course the valley proper will always keep up a fair amount of business at this point.

The express arrived this morning from Boise, as also several persons yesterday and to-day. The news continues flattering, in fact I may say intensely exciting. The gold comes out mostly in private hands, but it is coming sure, while new and rich discoveries are reported in almost every direction from Bannock City. There is reported a scarcity of water at Placerville.

To-day there came off as per announcement a democratic meeting at the Court-house to ratify the nomination of Geo. E. Cole. The prominent speech was made by F. P. Dugan, the leading watch repairer of this town. He said but little about Cole but a good deal about one Abraham Lincoln and his arbitrary arrests, interspersed with extracts from speeches made by Webster, Jeff. Davis, and others, and in conclusion appealed to his hearers, as he was a young man and new in the business, to correct him if he had not correctly defined "democracy." Mr. J. H. Lasater, formerly of Marion county, responded to this call, saying that, although not a voter, he knew something about democracy, and was proud of it, and proceeded to give his definition of it, viz: it is an anti-tariff, and anti-greenback party, and the nigger-question has nothing whatever to do with the democratic party, but is an out-and-out humbug. Mr. Cole having been duly ratified, a proposition came up to appoint a Central Committee. A committee of three was appointed to nominate it, one of whom, Mr. Anderson Cox, recently from Albany, Linn county, refused to serve, defining his "posish" in a neat little speech. He was a democrat, but for the Union, and nothing else, until the rebellion was crushed. This was a bombshell, and slightly disconcerted the managers. In the confusion, however, the meeting managed to adjourn to a future day, when the project of organizing the party will be resumed.

I will write you again in a few days, and will give you my ideas of the opposition on the Columbia river.

The farmers of this valley are beginning to complain that they are threatened with a grasshopper plague.

CYRUS.

LADIES LOYAL LEAGUE.—The ladies of St. Louis have recently formed a league, which numbers over 2,000 members. That our readers may have an idea of its purpose, we give the following extracts from the pledge and constitution:

"We, the undersigned, women of St. Louis, believing that in this hour of mortal peril to our country, every influence—moral as well as military—should be brought to its aid in the great struggle for national existence against a rebellion as crafty as it is wicked, and that whilst our fathers, husbands, sons and brothers are giving their treasure and their blood, it is our duty to contribute the influence which God has given us in our social sphere to the same holy cause; and that in this solemn crisis loyalty to our country is bound to be outspoken—even in the case of woman—as truly as loyalty to our God.

"We, therefore, do constitute ourselves an association to be known as 'The Ladies' National League of St. Louis, and do pledge our unconditional adhesion to our National Government in its struggle against the present rebellion; engaging to assist it by whatever means may be in our power in the maintenance of the National Union and of the integrity of our National domain.

"To this end we do further resolve and pledge ourselves to encourage and sustain our brave soldiers by acts of kindness and by words of patriotic cheer; to use every fitting opportunity of expressing our unflinching determination to stand by the dear old flag, and to honor those who fight in its defense until the day of its sure and perfect triumph; and to prove, in whatever way we can, that loyalty to our country forms a part of our allegiance to God.

"This Association shall be called the 'Ladies' National League of St. Louis.'

"The object of this League shall be to bind together all loyal women, with a determination in accordance with the pledge to use every means in our power to discountenance secession, to sustain the National Government in its present peril; and to administer in every suitable manner to the relief and comfort of our noble soldiers, on the field and in the hospital."

SELF-DENIAL AND GENEROSITY OF THE SOLDIERS.—The following is from one of the delegates of the Christian Commission:

Some of the soldiers expressed their gratitude that their friends at home still cared for them; but as I turned away from the group, one of the two members thrust their greenbacks into my hand for himself and comrade, as a contribution to the Commission. I was so surprised that I refused at first to receive them, but they insisted, saying with restrained but evident feeling, that they wished to do something for the soldiers themselves, when the people felt so at home. I told them I came to give to the soldiers, not to receive. But still they pressed it. "They could not use their money," they said, "better." Now, here is something that appeals to the noble hearts at home, if anything could. I took the names of these two men. Let these names go upon your subscription book, and record beside them: "Privates in the army at Suffolk, Virginia, an unsolicited offering;" and add to the second name: "This name is borne by a wife and children at home." They think they cannot use their money better, living in tents, sleeping on hard beds, eating coarse fare, separated from friends; but cheerfully ready for any sacrifice. What do the people at home think, whose comforts and luxuries never fail!

HOUSE RENT.—The rates of monthly rent of dwelling houses in this city have materially fallen within the past Spring, and a number of respectable and comfortable dwellings can now be rented something nearer living rates. This is well, for heretofore the price demanded has been unreasonable.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to June 10th.

Brilliant Cavalry Victory.

The Plans of the Rebels Broken.

Hooker's Army Eager for Fight!

Everything Encouraging!

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Times intimates that Stuart's cavalry force of from ten to fifteen thousand have been massing and drilling and supplying themselves, since the battle at Chancellorville, at Brandy Station, five miles south of Culpepper, with the intention, it is supposed, of making a raid into Middle Pennsylvania. Hooker sent to that vicinity a force of cavalry and artillery equal to the rebels, with several thousand infantry pickets, under Russell, of Massachusetts, and Gen. Ames, of Maine. Pleasanton, Kilpatrick, Buford, Davis, Gregg, Duff, Hart, and other superior cavalry officers, were also there, Pleasanton being chief commander. His force doubtless reached its destination on Thursday.

The Washington Republican says, Hooker's army is wide awake. Lee has found out within the last four days that he can neither advance nor retreat without fighting.

A special dispatch from headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, June 9th, says, everything is quiet here. Fredericksburg is still in possession of the rebels; their forces display themselves on the heights without any arms or indications of offensive operations. This morning a brigade of the enemy left the city and moved off to the heights. Their purpose is unknown. Ammunition trains are seen packed on a hill, a mile from the city, but no camps are visible. The rebels are busily engaged throwing up entrenchments, evidently intended to oppose the advance of our troops. The skirmishers of the two armies are but a few rods apart.

The rebels have rifle pits within our line of battle. Firing is heard in the direction of Kelly's Ford. It is reported that the enemy's cavalry have attempted to cross at Beverly Ford above Rappahannock station, and a brisk engagement is progressing at that point. 3,000 Texans have been mounted and added to Stewart's cavalry as riflemen. All the rebel cavalry has been collected in the vicinity of Culpepper. Lee has also moved up in that neighborhood with a large column of infantry. It is said by many that Stewart will dash upon Maryland, for the purpose of diverting our attention, while Lee follows across the Rappahannock and attacks us in the vicinity of Stafford Court House. The troops are in good spirits and ready for a fight.

A dispatch dated across the Rappahannock below Fredericksburg, June 9th, says the rebels have at least 30,000 men and a large force of artillery before us, but it is unknown whether they could drive us from our position. The rebel sharpshooters annoy us somewhat by their constant efforts to pick off our men. A few shells from our batteries dislodge them for a time, but they are sure to return.

Whatever is Hooker's object in this demonstration, he keeps his own counsels. The army is obeying orders without knowing exactly what these orders mean and what the next move will be. All quiet this morning.

MURFREESBORO, June 9th.—A lady from Shelbyville, who arrived to-day, says a report of the surrender of a Vicksburg garrison of 5,000 men, was prevalent in the rebel camps. She states that rebel papers has published the particulars.

Col. Laurence Williams, formerly of the 2d U. S. cavalry, later Gen. Bragg's chief of artillery, and Lieut. Dunlap of the rebel army, were arrested and hung as spies last night at Franklin, under the following circumstances: They made their appearance in full federal uniform, representing themselves as inspectors of the United States army, having orders from Adjutant General Townsend, and countersigned by Rosecrans, to inspect the fortifications of the department. Col. Watkins had great suspicions, and communicated his doubts to Col. Bayard, who telegraphed to Rosecrans if any such persons had positions in his army; Rosecrans replied in the negative. The rebels confessed. A document of treasonable nature and contraband information was found on them. Rosecrans ordered a court martial, and this morning they were hung.

NEW YORK, June 10th.—Sixes of 1881 coupons, 108; exchange, 153@154¼; gold, 40 @40¼.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—From what can be learned from persons arriving from the Rappahannock, a division of troops went over the river on Monday, June 8th, and the rebel rifle pits and forage along the banks are destroyed, and earthworks thrown up with a view to prevent an attack, and to shield our men from the enemy.

A severe engagement took place yesterday morning, 9th, between our cavalry and that of the rebels under Stuart, at Beverly Ford, on the Rappahannock, five miles above Rappahannock Station, and about the same distance from Sulphur Springs. The Post says the fight was a very brilliant exploit. From officers who participated in the fight we learn that yesterday two brigades of Pleasonton's cavalry, under Buford, made an important reconnoisance towards Culpepper, and had one of the most obstinate cavalry fights of the war. The force comprised Buford's own brigade and another under Col. Davis, supported by two batteries of artillery and two regiments of infantry as a reserve. At 12 o'clock by Monday night the cavalry bivouacked near Beverly Ford, on the Rappahannock. At 3 in the morning the men were called, and at 4 they crossed the ford. Beyond the ford there was a semi-circular belt of woods, with a range of rifle pits near the timber. A line of pickets guarded the ford and the southern bank of the river.

The 8th New York Cavalry crossed first, and drove the enemy back to the rifle pits, and after a desperate conflict cleared the woods, the enemy falling back upon their artillery and maintaining their position until 12 o'clock, when our artillery came up and the rebels were again driven back for 6 miles in the direction of Culpepper Court-house, when our forces returned and re-crossed in good order. Nearly all the fighting done by the cavalry was of the bloodiest kind, mostly hand-to-hand with sabre and pistol. In the woods the heavy timber was not very dense, so that the horses could advance through it, but the undergrowth was thick. Our loss was considerable, and the slaughter of the rebels fearful. No estimate of the number of casualties on both sides can be given. It is reported that Col. B. Davis was killed. By this sudden and brilliant dash of our cavalry into the enemy's lines their plans have been frustrated and the intended raid of Stewart's cavalry prevented.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—An official report from Admiral Porter, dated Mississippi Squadron, June 1st, says: After the return of the expedition under Walker up the Yazoo, and the destruction of the rams and navy-yard, I dispatched the same officers up again with instructions to capture the transports. Besides the steamer mentioned as burned, he burned the Arcadia and Alaqueta, and three of their best transports. My object was to break up the transportation on the Yazoo, and with the exception of a few steamers beyond Fort Pemberton, they can transport nothing by water on that river. Steamers to the value of $70,000 were destroyed. The Star of the West was sunk, completely blockading the Yalla Busha.

Gen. Banks, in an official report dated before Port Hudson, May 30th, gives accounts of moving on that place similar to those already published. He says the negro troops answered every expectation. No troops could be more determined or brave. They made three charges upon the batteries of the enemy, suffering very heavy loss, and holding their position at nightfall with the rest of the troops. Our loss, from May 23d to this date, in killed, wounded and missing, is nearly 1,000, including, I deeply regret to say, some able officers.

CHICAGO, June 10th.—The Anglo African, in its last issue, in an article on the colored element of the war, says the negro troops now in the service number 35,000, not including those acting as pioneers for Banks and Grant, which will doubtless swell the number to 50,000.

The billiard tournament that has been progressing for the last ten days at Irving Hall, closed last night. Dudley Cavanaugh, of New York, was decided the champion of America.

WASHINGTON, June 9th.—Twenty men were killed and fifteen wounded by an explosion to-day of the magazine at Fort Lyon, near Alexandria. Cause, accident. The magazine was totally destroyed. No damage done to the guns and carriages.

Roebuck had given notice of a resolution that England should open negotiations with other powers for the recognition of the Southern Confederacy.

LIVERPOOL, May 30.—Paris correspondence says Mason's presence in Paris strengthens the report of the approaching recognition of the South. The general impression in France seems to be that she will take the lead in recognizing the South, and that England will not be slow to follow.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—At a special ses held yesterday, an information was filed the case of the United States vs two boxe furs, one bale of furs, and one package furs, and a warrant ordered to be issued the seizure of the furs. These furs came on the Brother Jonathan from Victoria, although directed to San Francisco were la ed at Astoria without a permit. The suit for their forfeiture, for being illegally imp ed.

E. N. Hodgkinson resigned his position Clerk of the U. S. District Court. H. B was appointed Clerk of the District and C cuit Courts.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The case of William King vs The State of Oregon—for a balan alleged to be due on Penitentiary contract occupied the Court yesterday, and will be co cluded this morning.

RECORDER'S COURT.—Joseph C. Laskey, the Jehu who drove a pair of spirited hors at a terrific rate through the streets and of the bridge, last Friday, was arrested on tw charges—being drunk and furious drivin Recorder McCoy relieved him of ten dolla and costs, and the man went his way perhap a wiser one. Those horses we learn are be entered for the June races. They passe through town yesterday.

Yesterday two cases were disposed of. Adam Stradot, for using indecent language, and vio lent and disorderly conduct, was fined ten do lars and costs. Paid.

W. J. Cookwright, for peddling books with out license, was fined ten dollars and costs together with complainant's fee of three dol lars.

There is a case on the docket for trial a nine o'clock this morning, wherein one woma brings action against another to keep th peace for calling the former a China-woman

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.—Prepara tions for the celebration of the coming Fourth are progressing finely, and we have every as surance that a grand display will be made surpassing anything of the kind ever witnes ed in this city, creditable alike to our citizen and the glorious cause commemorated. Hon Amory Holbrook has been selected as Orato of the Day; Rev. T. H. Pearne, Reader o the Declaration of Independence, and Rev P. S. Caffry, Chaplain.

BENEFIT TO-NIGHT.—The complimentary benefit tendered by the young men of this city to the dramatic company, comes off to-night. "Nick of the Woods" and the "Mistaken Fathers" will be performed, into which the entire strength of the company will be thrown. Those wishing choice seats should engage them this morning, as the house will undoubtedly be crowded. Mr. Waldron and Miss Mitchell will appear, as usual.

JOURNEYMAN PRINTER WANTED.—A practical and steady journeyman printer can find a situation in this office, by applying immediately.

THE HIGHER LAW PARTY.—Copperhead meetings generally resolve that certain measures adopted by Congress and the President are "unconstitutional." There was a time when the same men denounced such attempts to usurp the functions of the Supreme Court as "higher-lawism." The interpretation of the Constitution of the United States is not left to individual citizens or partisan assemblages. All laws passed by Congress are to be presumed constitutional until the proper tribunal has decided otherwise. When the Dred Scott decision was given, the "Democrats" strenuously insisted upon implicit obedience to the law as interpreted by the Court, and denounced the course of individuals who ventured to construe the Constitution for themselves. But presto! The Dred Scott "Democrats" of other days have jumped into the bed vacated by the Abolitionists. They are now a "higher law party;" each individual Copperhead presuming to decide for himself what is or is not constitutional. The cause of law and order demands the suppression of a faction which upholds this doctrine of anarchy.

COLUMBIAN No. 3.—Special meeting this evening at half past seven o'clock. By order of the President.

June 16th, 1863.

Notice.—The Committee appointed to sell Tickets by the Young Men's Club will meet at 6 o'clock this evening, at the Willamette Theatre. By order,

DR. D. JAYNE'S
EXPECTORANT
AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG, and found such general favor in every region of country where they have been sold, (and there is no place on the civilized globe where they have not been sold) that it would seem almost superfluous at this time to direct attention to them through the medium of the press Yet it is due to suffering humanity, and especially to that numerous class who in the changeable climate of the Pacific Coast suffer from

Diseases of the Lungs & Throat, inducing and ending in CONSUMPTION many of whom may not have used this remedy that they should be all we ed to read of some of the cases where its influence has been useful in remedying complaints from which they are suffering. The EXPECTORANT

Operates immediately upon the Disease,

SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT

while the SANATIVE PILLS, by preserving regularity in the Bowels and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs aid and assist the perfect operation of the former

Attention is asked to the following Certificates selected at random from the mass in the possession of the proprietors

UPPER OWCHLAND, Chester Co Pa Sept 15, 1858

Dr D JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians, whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail, I obtained no relief for my suffering until I c mmenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking it for about three months, I was entirely cured.

NATHAN PENNYPACKER

ASTORIA Long Island Jan 15 1860

L W TINELL, Esq New York—Sir As you well know I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS, accompanied with the most painful tightness of the chest and great difficulty in breathing for nearly two months, and I had almost lost all confidence in the power of medical science, when at your friendly suggestion I began the well known (but not enough known) EXPECTORANT of Dr Jayne of Philadelphia Three or four days after having commenced to take it, my cough had nearly subsided the expectoration was easy and the breathing quite free

I am now quite another man and my general health has never been better

I remain my dear Tinell, with esteem, your servant, and friend

J B MOSTE

WINFIELD, Tuscarawas Co O May 31 1860

DR D JAYNE—Dear Sir. One bottle of your Expectorant cured my daughter of the LUNG FEVER after having been beyond the hopes of recovery During the attack she had a number of convulsions She is now perfectly well

J H COFFMAN

BURLINGTON, Bradford Co Pa, July 23 1859

DR D JAYNE—Dear Sir My son was for one and a half years afflicted with a disease resembling CONSUMPTION For two years he was not able to labor He was finally induced to try your EXPECTORANT and PILLS and after taking 10 bottles and some PILLS was completely cured and is now able to labor every day. — JOHN HENRY

We would add to the above that we sold to Mr Henry the medicine for his son, and know that the statement is true

SPERRY WILHELM & CO

For a greater number and variety of certificates, and fuller information regarding these and other of Dr D Jayne & Sons' preparations reference is given to the ANNUAL ALMANAC which may be had from any Druggist or Dealer in Medicines

The Impromptu Marriage

"For heaven's sake, Susy, do be serious if you can, for five minutes. Pray, pray cease this trifling, which is but cruel playing with my feelings. Let us treat this subject as it deserves, soberly and seriously."

"Well, there, then!" cried the laughing black eyed girl to whom Charles Westerly spoke. "There then is that grave enough? See the corners of my mouth are duly turned down, and my eyes rolled up, and I am as sober as a patient who has [illegible] of the dentist's instruments. Don't I suit you?"

"You suit me anyhow, and you know it well, you witch!" cried Charles gazing with a smile, at the pretty face puckered up in its affectation of demureness. But he was not to be driven from his point, and he resumed gravely, after a pause, "The time has come, Susy, when I feel I have a right to demand an explicit answer to my suit. You have trifled with my earnest feelings long enough. I have grown restless under my fetters."

"Shake them off, then, Charley," interrupted the saucy girl, with a pretty defiant toss of the head, which plainly said, "I defy you to do it."

"I cannot, Susy, I cannot, and you know it," replied the hapless lover, impatiently.

"That being the case," said Susy, "take my advice—wear them gracefully, and don't pull and jerk so, it only makes them hurt you."

The young man turned away angrily, and walked silently up and down the room, evidently fretting and fuming internally. Susy, meantime, looked out of the window and yawned. Charles moodily continued his walk.

"Oh, what a beautiful bird on that lilac tree!" cried Susy, suddenly. "Do come and see it."

Charles mechanically approached the window and looked out.

"Don't you think, Charley," said Susy, laying her hand upon his arm and looking up eagerly, "don't you think you could manage to—"

"What, Susy, dear?" asked Charles, all his tenderness awakened by her manner. "What?"

"Drop a pinch of salt on his tail," returned the provoking girl, with an affectation of simplicity; "for then you know you could catch it."

His answer was to fling her off and with a suppressed exclamation he turned angrily away.

His walk this time was longer than before, and his cogitations were more earnest; for he did not heed any of Susy's artfully artless devices to allure his notice. At last he stopped abruptly before her, and said

"Susy, for three long years I have been your suitor, without either confession of love or promise of marriage on your part. Often as I have demanded to know your sentiments toward me, you have always coquettishly refused me an answer. This state of things must cease. I love you, as you know, better than my life; but I will no longer be your plaything. To-morrow you are going away to be absent for months, and if you cannot this very day, throw aside your coquetry, and give an honest 'yes' for my answer, I shall consider that I have received a 'no,' and act accordingly."

"And how would that be? What would you do?" asked Miss Susy, curiously.

"Begin by tearing your false and worthless image from my heart!" cried Charles, furiously.

"It would be a curious piece of business, Charley, and you would not succeed, either," said Susy.

"I should and would succeed," said he, "as you shall see, if you wish, cruel, heartless girl!"

"But I don't wish, Charley, dear. I love dearly to have you love me," said Susy.

"Why, then," cried the foolish youth, quite won over again—"why, then, dearest Susy, will you not consent?"

"Remember, I said I liked to be loved," replied Susy. "I did not say anything about loving. But, pray, how long did you say you had been courting me in that pretty little speech of yours?"

"Three long years," replied Charles.

"Neatly and accurately quoted, Charley. But you know my cousin Rachel was only won after five years' courtship. You don't suppose I am going to rate myself any cheaper than she did, do you? Suppose we drop this subject for two years, perhaps by that time I may be able to work myself up to the falling in-love point; there is no knowing what wonders time may effect."

"If you are not in love now you never will be," returned Charles sturdily, "and I will have my answer now or never."

"Never, then!" laughed Susy.

But she had gone a step too far. Her often severely tried lover was too much in earnest to bear her trifling any longer.

"Never, be it, then!" he cried, and seizing his hat, he strode angrily from the room.

Susy listened to his receding footsteps with dismay. Had she, indeed, by her incorrigible love of coquetry, alienated that noble, manly heart? It smote her to the soul to think so. As she heard him open the front door, impelled by a feeling of despair, she raised the window sash and, leaning forward, whispered

"Charley! Charley! you will be at the boat to-morrow, to bid me good bye, won't you? Surely we are friends!"

As she spoke, she tore a rose from her bosom and threw it to him. It lodged on his arm, but he brushed it away as though it had been poison, and passed on without looking up.

Susy spent the rest of the day in tears. Early the next morning the bustle of departure began. Susy was going to accompany her widowed and invalid mother on a trip for her health.

As they reached the wharf and descended from the carriage, Susy's eyes made themselves busy searching for one wished for face, but it was nowhere to be seen.

The steamboat lay panting and puffing, impatient to be let loose. Susy's mother, aided by the servant man, who accompanied them, had already crossed the gangway and Susy was reluctantly following, when the sound of a voice behind her—the very voice she was longing to hear—startled her. She turned to look round, and missing her footing, fell into the water.

U. S. INCOME TAX.

THE LAW CONTEMPLATES THAT EVERY ONE shall pay [illegible] profits (less $600) derived from any source whatever. A person is allowed to deduct all legally assessed National, State and County Taxes, hired help, Rents, Drayage, &c., necessary to carry on his business; but no farmer, merchant, mechanic or any person, has a right to deduct his own labor as so much expense from his income.

The Income Tax is to be paid on the income of the year commencing 1st January 1863, so that on the evening of December 31st 1863, everybody should make up a record of their income [illegible] profits of that year. And as many sources of income, such as Dividends of Railroad Bonds and Stocks, Insurance Stocks, Savings Banks interest, &c. (they having already paid the income tax,) are not to be counted. It is therefore necessary to have a clear record of the sources of income, that there may be no dispute with the Assessor.

All corporations must deduct the three per centum before declaring their dividends.

For Example:

A man in business must make up the net profits of his business for the year, and pay the tax on the amount less $600.

A man [illegible] outside of his business, and all and even more than his profits in the business, nevertheless he must pay tax on all net business profits except the $600. And all within salary, all over $600 must be taxed, though personal or family expenses [illegible].

The Income Tax for the year 1862 is assessable on the first day of May 1863, and is due and payable on or before the 30th June 1863. And any sums due and unpaid after thirty days of the said 30th June, as aforesaid, and for ten days after demand by the Collector, five per centum will be added [illegible].

[illegible] must make up [illegible].

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles, and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
LAWYERS,
PHYSICIANS
and
CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If you do, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters:"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23d, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer "State of Maine," from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances, and, accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbrun, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them, the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months: for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health.

The Impromptu Marriage.

"For heaven's sake, Susy, do be serious, if you can, for five minutes. Pray, pray cease this trifling, which is but cruel playing with my feelings; let us treat this subject as it deserves, soberly and seriously."

"Well, there, then?" cried the laughing, black-eyed girl, to whom Charles Westerly spoke. "There, then, is that grave enough? See, the corners of my mouth are duly turned down, and my eyes rolled up, and I am a sober as a patient who has caught sight of the dentist's instruments. Do I suit you?"

"You suit me anyhow, and you know it well, you witch!" cried Charles, gazing, with a smile, at the pretty face puckered up in its affectation of demureness. But he was not to be driven from his point, and he resumed gravely, after a pause, "The time has come, Susy, when I feel I have a right to demand an explicit answer to my suit. You have trifled with my earnest feelings long enough. I have grown restless under my fetters."

"Shake them off, then, Charley," interrupted the saucy girl, with a pretty, defiant toss of the head, which plainly said, "I defy to do it."

"I cannot, Susy, I cannot, and you know it," replied the hapless lover, impatiently.

"That being the case," said Susy, "take my advice—wear them gracefully, and don't pull and jerk so; it only makes them hurt you."

The young man turned away angrily, and walked silently up and down the room, evidently fretting and fuming internally. Susy, meantime, looked out of the window and yawned; Charles moodily continued his walk.

"Oh, what a beautiful bird on that lilac tree!" cried Susy, suddenly. "Do come and see it."

Charles mechanically approached the window and looked out.

"Don't you think, Charley," said Susy, laying her hand upon his arm and looking up eagerly, "don't you think you could manage to——"

"What, Susy, dear?" asked Charles, all his tenderness awakened by her manner. "What?"

"Drop a pinch of salt on his tail," returned the provoking girl, with an affectation of simplicity; "for then you know you could catch it."

His answer was to fling her off, and with a suppressed exclamation he turned angrily away.

His walk this time was longer than before, and his cogitations were more earnest; for he did not heed any of Susy's artfully artless devices to allure his notice. At last he stopped abruptly before her, and said:

"Susy, for three long years I have been your suitor, without either confession of love or promise of marriage on your part. Often as I have demanded to know your sentiments toward me, you have always coquettishly refused me an answer. This state of things must cease. I love you, as you know, better than my life; but I will no longer be your plaything. To-morrow you are going away to be absent for months; and if you cannot, this very day, throw aside your coquetry, and give an honest 'yes' for my answer, I shall consider that I have received a 'no,' and act accordingly."

"And how would that be? What would you do?" asked Miss Susy, curiously.

"Begin by tearing your false and worthless image from my heart!" cried Charles, furiously.

"It would be a curious piece of business, Charley, and you would not succeed, either," said Susy.

"I should and would succeed," said he, "as you shall see, if you wish, cruel, heartless girl!"

"But I don't wish, Charley, dear. I love dearly to have you love me," said Susy.

"Why, then," cried the foolish youth, quite won over again—"why, then, dearest Susy, will you not consent?"

"Remember, I said I liked to be loved," replied Susy. "I did not say anything about loving. But, pray, how long did you say you had been courting me in that pretty little speech of yours?"

"Three long years," replied Charles.

"Neatly and accurately quoted, Charley. But you know my cousin Rachel was only won after five years' courtship. You don't suppose I am going to rate myself any cheaper than she did, do you? Suppose we drop this subject for two years; perhaps by that time I may be able to work myself up to the falling-in-love point; there is no knowing what wonders time may effect."

"If you are not in love now you never will be," returned Charles sturdily, "and I will have my answer now or never!"

"Never, then!" laughed Susy.

But she had gone a step too far. Her often severely tried lover was too much in earnest to bear her trifling any longer.

"Never, be it, then!" he cried, and seizing his hat, he strode angrily from the room.

Susy listened to his receding footsteps with dismay. Had she, indeed, by her incorrigible love of coquetry, alienated that noble, manly heart? It smote her to the soul to think so. As she heard him open the front door, impelled by a feeling of despair, she raised the window-sash and, leaning forward, whispered:

"Charley! Charley! you will be at the boat to-morrow, to bid me good-bye, won't you? Surely we are friends!"

As she spoke, she tore a rose from her bosom and threw it to him. It lodged on his arm, but he brushed it away as though it had been poison, and passed on without looking up.

Susy spent the rest of the day in tears. Early the next morning the bustle of departure began. Susy was going to accompany her widowed and invalid mother on a trip for her health.

As they reached the wharf and descended from the carriage, Susy's eyes made themselves busy searching for one wished-for face; but it was nowhere to be seen.

The steamboat lay panting and puffing, impatient to be let loose. Susy's mother, aided by the servant-man, who accompanied them, had already crossed the gangway and Susy was reluctantly following, when the sound of a voice behind her—the very voice she was longing to hear—startled her. She turned to look round, and missing her footing, fell into the water.

U. S. INCOME TAX.

THE LAW CONTEMPLATES THAT EVERY ONE shall pay on all nett profits (over $600) derived from any source whatever. A person is allowed to deduct all legally assessed National, State and County Taxes, hired help, Rent, Drayage, &c., necessary to carry on his business; but no farmer, merchant, mechanic, or any person, has a right to deduct his own labor as so much expense from his income.

The Income Tax is to be paid on the income of the year commencing January 1st, 1862, so that on the evening of December 31st, 1862, everybody should make up a record of their income gains or profits for that year. And as many sources of income, such as Dividends and Railroad Bonds and Stocks, Insurance Stock, Savings Banks, interest, &c. (they having already paid the income tax,) are not again taxed. It therefore becomes necessary to have a clear record of the sources of income, that there may be no dispute with the Assessor.

All corporations must deduct the three per centum before declaring their dividends.

For Example:

A man in business must make up the nett profits of his business for the year, and pay the tax on the amount less $600.

A man may, outside of his business, spend all and even more than his profits in the business; nevertheless he must pay tax on all nett business profits except the $600. And so, with a salary, all over $600 must be taxed, though personal or family expenses consume it all.

The Income Tax for the year 1862 is assessable on the first day of May, 1863, and is due and payable on or before the 30th June, 1863. And any sums due and unpaid for thirty days after the 30th June, as aforesaid, and for ten days after demand by the Collector, five per centum will be added to the amount unpaid.

Each individual of any firm or partnership must make up his income separately.

U. S. Assessor for Oregon.

BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL,

AND

DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This Medicine increases the power of DIGESTION and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the WATERY or CALCAREOUS depositions, and all UNNATURAL ENLARGEMENTS are reduced, as well as PAIN and INFLAMMATION, and is good for MEN, WOMEN OR CHILDREN.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion or Abuse,

ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the	Muscular System,

Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess.

THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion that

THE CONSTITUTION,

once affected by Organic Weakness,

Requires the Aid of Medicine, to strengthen and invigorate the system which invariably does.

A Trial will Convince the most Skeptical.

THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS

Who have been the victims of Quacks

and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after marriage.

Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu

For all Affections and Diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE, from whatever cause originating, and

NO MATTER OF HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs require the aid of a Diuretic.

THEY CONTAIN

NO ALCOHOL OR BAD WHISKY!

They will cure the above diseases in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
LAWYERS,
PHYSICIANS
and
CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects; I yet know of no sufficient reason why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt: Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters:"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23d, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.
